

Congress of the United States
House of Representatives

February 26, 2014

Dear Colleague,

March 25th is National Agriculture Day, and we will mark the occasion by dedicating a statue of the late Dr. Norman E. Borlaug of Iowa.

Widely regarded as America's greatest agricultural scientist, Dr. Borlaug's groundbreaking work in wheat improvement saved starving populations around the globe and earned him our nation's highest honors. We hope you will join us for this celebration of Dr. Borlaug and all of the great farmers and producers from throughout our history.
